

AOV FOREIGN GRAND PREMIER MALE

GR PR TOBYSDEN TERESCHENKO BEN n 24 MN 19.4.14 I like this boy who had a very good head and was most typical having a free of exaggeration and any angularity. He had a balance of length over width and showed a good dip in profile. The width on top between the ears was good and the ears balanced the head well and did not dominate being of a good setting. The eyes were very good for size and shape and again were most typical. They were generally green with a definite outer rim of green. The muzzle was gently curved into the head profile with only a hint of a pinch. The chin was of pleasing depth and the bite was good. The body was firm and well muscled. The legs had strength and length. The tail was good with some thickness as the base and it tapered well. The coat was silky to the touch but had a degree of resilience as required. A good pattern with very good contrast and definition. Prepared well for the show.

RES GR PR PR JAY SHELM SUBERT LEGACY SIN MN 2.9.12 An attractive Sinapura of overall very pleasing type. A good head for shape especially the top of head with ears which were of good size and shape and well set. The dip in profile was good leading to a pleasing muzzle. There was a slight pinch to the muzzle and the nose fell at the tip. The body was good for size and was quite firm and the legs were well muscled and nicely shaped. The tail was good for length and shape and tapered well. The quality of the coat was excellent with really good ticking though it was slightly darker. The outer front legs were clear as required and nose outline and eye liners were present. Prepared well for the show.

AOV FOREIGN GRAND PREMIER FEMALE

1 GR PR CH AND PR LILYPUT DUCHESS KATE TOS C 32 FN 31.512 A very pleasing lilac girl of good type. A lovely balanced head with inverted triangle and with lovely eyes for shape and setting. They were mainly green with some blue. The ears were well set on the head and carried the outer edge of the head so well. The dip in side profile was very good and the chin was of pleasing depth. The bite was good. The legs were of good length and the feet were nicely oval shaped. The tail tapered well to a good tip. The coat however, was not as good being slightly open today which detracted from her otherwise good looks. The texture however was good. Prepared well for the show.

SPHYNX NEUTER

1 PC RAGOUSITY MR JHYNX SPH N 03 32 12.12.13 An attractive Sphinx of just over a year and a quarter. A very nicely shaped head with good ears of size and setting, large at the base and well set apart but held erect. There was a good flatter area on the top The good head with a lovely pinch defining a good gently rounded muzzle. The eyes were particularly lemon shaped and of good size and just so typical. The dip in profile was a little strong. The bite was good and the chin was acceptable. The legs were slim and well muscled. The tail was good for length and tapered well to a fine tip. The body was covered in a fine down. There was no long down on the body other than behind the ears and on the nose and it did not spread to the wider face. He was not really happy today but prepared well for the show.
