RCT /Chinchilla, Silver Tabby and Smoke CS. Saturday 30th November 2019.

My sincere thanks to Barbara, Stuart and the respective committees for my invitation. Friendly atmosphere at these breed shows, some good quality amongst the exhibits and a nice early getaway who could wish for more? My grateful thank to Jen for stepping into steward, she did a very good job of it and handled all our exhibits with care and understanding.

Exhibits worthy of mention were my Olympian Certificate winners, My overall Choice for Best in Show at the RCT was FISHER'S. XZIBIT HAIRY BIKER a LH British Cream, who looked Splendid.

I would also like to mention 4 FISHER'S. OWLETT'S. APOLLO. A charming Chinchilla baby. For preparation you would find 1. TURNER-RUSSELL'S GR CH VIVLALDI XANDER a Shaded Silver Persian a difficult act to follow, with his superb tarnish free flowing coat

The Overall was interesting in that the Section 1 winner was a SH and the Section 3 winner a LH and I understand this is the first time a BLH has gone Overall Best, so congratulations. Some exhibits were between coats and as such not showing to best advantage, but one can only judge what you can see on the day and as such cannot forecast how things may turn out, even making allowance for seasonal changes.

A little advice re sculpting, I have absolutely no issue with sculpting, but just to make all aware, the art is to do it in such a way that I know it has been done, but with no obvious tell-tale evidence that I can identify how. So ear tips should not look ragged or straight edge, but smoothly rounded, eyebrows should still be evident.

Olympian Adult, Female;

OLY. 26. PANTINGS'S IMP GR CH RONALDO SILVER XAVIA. BSH ns 24. 25-05-15. British SH Black Silver Spotted. Pleasing mature girl nothing untoward, rounded head, good fullness to her cheeks, good muzzle, round on the brow, small rise on her nose, perfectly good chin and her bite still good. Her ears are medium size, just a tiny bit wide at the base but otherwise set well apart. Her eyes are open and a good size, round shape, hazel/green with a more obvious green towards the centre. Body has good size and compact appearance, well-proportioned limbs and paws, her tail is a medium thickness and balanced length. Coat short and dense with a good degree of crispness evident. Well defined facial markings, the spotting is well defined there is a very slight amount of linkage just behind the shoulders, well broken spine line, showing good bracelets tail rings well defined, black heels and tail tip, good silver sixpence ground colour, as a bonus she was devoid of tarnish. Her condition splendid and she handled really well.

Head ideally requires a little more fullness, and muzzle development, rounded brow, chin I would like deeper, bite untidy. Ears are medium size and set relatively wide apart. His eyes I would like a little more round and open, his having a slight degree of obliqueness, show a good depth of green. Coat is long and rather soft, though reasonable density, just lacks the required degree of crispness. He is very evenly shaded and has very little undue barring, pleasing warm apricot undercoat, creating an attractive warmth, he lacked the black pigment to his eye liner and nose leather, black heels and tail tip. He was in lovely condition and handles beautifully, aiming a little high at this level for me.

2nd. 9. CLARK'S. IMP GR PR OWLETTS BRUCE. EXO ns. 24-06-10. Black Smoke Exotic, solid chunky lad, who though looking good for his age in many ways, lost out today mainly due to his coat, which appeared to be very much betwixt and between. Head is masculine and shows well developed width at and across his full cheeks, broad muzzle, broad round skull, Defined stop, short nose, well-shaped nose leather, chin was reasonably firm, his bite now somewhat untidy. Smaller ears, set well apart. Very good bolder well open, round eye shape, the colour looking much improved out of the pen and still showing evidence of coppery orange. Broad chest, compact body proportions, low on his strong legs and round paws, short proportionately balanced tail. As a cat of contrast he fits the standard well, with black top coat and clear contrast to his silver undercoat, sadly he was not in the best of coats, it was flat the texture very fine and lacking density and as a result it lacked the required full of life quality, he was somewhat brindled on the chest area and his chin was quite rusty. He was though in most respects a very good black surface colour. The major problem was his coat.

British Grand Champion, Male;

GR CH 1 Not Awarded, 1st. 8. SKEY'S. CH HARLEME E STREET SHUFFLE. BSH cy 12.

12-07-18. Lilac Golden, very well grown but at present somewhat out of kilter between head and body development. His head is at present rather too much of a wedge and lacks roundness, his cheeks still to fill and round, muzzle, rather fine, brow requires more rounding, chin lacks depth, bite level. His ears rather large and set tall, still to widen off more fully. The eyes are straighter in set than I would have wished and the colour rather indeterminate more chartreuse tone, as opposed to definite green. Body is well grown, good legs and paws, quite a heavy tail. Coat is like the vast majority of his breed is longer and softer than I would have wished, lacking in crispness. Shading was even, and he has little in the way of excess barring, with the exception of his tail rings being very evident, lilac colour is a little cool and dark showing some heel markings, but sadly he is virtually white to his undercoat, shading though heavy is even. He has a lovely nature and in super condition. But some way to go in head type as yet, combined with his eye colour and coat.

and fill out more fully at the cheeks but not out of keeping with his age/breed, skull rounds well, stop is well defined, short snub nose, well shaped nose leather and nostrils, chin quite good width and depth, bite is virtually level. Ears are small fitting well into his head contours and have good width between longer well-furnished interiors amazing eyes, large well open and beautifully bold, with a very good obvious green colour, dark rims. Body is at present a little long and could be a little more compact, but again not out of keeping with his age, proportionate legs and paws, full flowing tail. Truly beautifully prepared full coat, it flowed superbly and had a wonderful full of life quality silken fine texture though with good density, full frill, he is beautifully evenly shaded, though subtle with lovely clean silver, free of tarnish, superb presentation. Wonderful temperament.

2nd. 3. FAIRS'S. GR CH REMILAKATPABLO PER ds 11. 30-03-16. Red Shaded Cameo Persian, Mature, well developed broad head, full round cheeks, good muzzle, rather heavy on the brow and as a result it made his stop look very deep and his eyes a little hooded, his nose was short, deep chin, bite a little under. His ears low and widely set, looking a tiny bit wide at their base due lack of fullness to the coat, some internal furnishings. His eye colour is a vibrant deep coppery orange, just tad hooded due to the heavier brow, otherwise well open and adequately bold. Body is deceptively weighty, good bone to his legs, good size paws, bushy tail. He appears to be between coats as it is rather uneven in its density and was showing some harsher guard hairs, evident and his top coat uneven, His shading though in the main even, due to its lack of fullness, was a little heavier in his brow and shoulders to some degree. Reddish white undercoat, some colour up his heels. He was as well prepared as he could be considering his coat, he was a wee bit tense, but not to infer difficult in any way.

AC Breeders Kitten ;

1st. 7 FISHER'S OWLETT'S PENUMBRA. EXO ns. 12-07-19. Black Smoke, at only 4.5 months this girl was a pleasing example of her colour. Head is round with rounding developing to her cheeks, not a fully smooth round skull at present, good stop, short nose the leather I would like a little larger, firm chin, her gums quite swollen and teething badly, so would be unfair to comment on her bite. She has beautifully small neat ears, which fit well into her head contours though still to widen off more fully. Ears are round and look impressively bold muddy tone as yet and still to settle. Very much a baby in body development, good bone to legs and paws, balanced tail. Her coat stands away from the body slightly, very soft and fine. Though still to obtain more obvious contrast, she is an obvious Smoke the silver undercoat still to clear to define the whiter undercoat, in certain lights there was a slight hint of ghosting to the shiny black surface colour. Condition and temperament both splendid.

under. Ears are reasonably small, but still to widen off more fully, good internal furnishings. Eyes well open and fully round, deep coppery colour. Looking a little longer in the body due to lack of coat fullness and he could also be a little shorter on the legs. Reasonably full bushy tail, still some frill, Coat not at its fullest, though well prepared but lacked a little in density, his classic pattern was reasonably well defined taking into account his colour though showing some brindling, but appeared to be free of tarnish. Though. Darker at the oyster area and lower back, he was decidedly paler and more obvious blue tone on his head and leg barring, also his tail. I did not Wrong Colour, but I did indicate a question on the awards slip, to indicate my concern in regard to his colour, I would certainly recommend a DNA test to clarify his colour, I will happily eat my words if I am wrong.

Chinchilla Kitten;

1st 4 FISHER'S. OWLETT'S. APOLLO. 16-05-19. A really beautiful showy kitten. Lovely face, head is rounding well his cheeks starting to fill, smoothly round skull, good stop, well developed muzzle, reasonably short nose, good chin and his bite almost level. His ears have longer internal furnishings smaller size and fitting into the head rounding without distortion. Stunning eyes, large and round full open shape with a good boldness, black rims, very good definite green colour. Body is deceptive in its weight, good bone, bushy tail. Superb coat, wonderful presentation, if was silken in texture, and flowed beautifully, Very ethereal effect, with subtle tipped appearance, brick nose leather, black paw pads, with beautifully clean silver/white undercoat as was his tummy area and beneath his tail. Superb condition and wonderful condition.

Brown Classic Tabby and White Exotic, have not handled this lad since the beginning of the year and his temperament is just as wonderful. Head type is excellent, well rounded with width across the cheeks, strong muzzle, broad smoothly rounded skull, deep stop, short nose, his nose leather and nostrils both a reasonable size, chin was good, his bite slightly under. Ears are neat being very good smaller size, set wide apart, neatly rounded on the tips. Really lovey eyes, open and round with a good degree or boldness, the colour intense coppery colour and super expression. Cobby compact body, low on the well-proportioned legs and round paws, balanced short tail., Wonder coat quality, beautifully soft plush texture standing away from the body, with an incredibly lively quality. The white areas clean and bright touch of tabby veering onto his chin, good amount of warm brown Classic Tabby pattern over his body with sprinkle of white beneath his shoulders and another tiny splash just on the left shoulder. He was in superb condition and has a truly amazing temperament. He well justified his award and was later Best section 1 exhibit.

Body firm and possesses good overall substance, compact shape, good boning, to her legs and paws, short bushy full tail. Her coat was splendid, it was beautifully full and well-groomed, lovely full frill, really sparkled with wonderful sharp contrast between her bright red areas these were over her face, shoulders, lower back and tail, with some black on her tail and smaller patches of denser black on the upper part of her face and head, the white was beautifully clean and pristine looking. 08-06-18. Black Tortie LH Selkirk Rex, an attractive miss, though still very young head wise she is most pleasing. Ideally she could be a little fuller at the cheeks, strong matchbox shaped muzzle, which stands away from the cheeks and as a result has good prominence, rounded brow with good break, nose has width, good depth chin and her bite level. Ears are medium in size, still to widen off just a little more, small tufts to her ear tips, with some tighter curl to the interiors. Lovely eyes, well rounded with a wide-open expression they were also a very good degree of colour (though no points, for that aspect). Body though well grown has still to fill out more fully and at present she is rather high on the legs and this creates a longer leaner appearance as opposed to cobby, still to broaden across the shoulders and haunches, this is I feel purely a development issue just to bulk up more fully, tail has a slight touch of taper of well-balanced length. Lovely coat quality, it was soft and has a springy quality, about it, giving it lift, good density with abundant loose unstructured soft curl, with the exception of her lower back where it is straighter, denser on her throat and britches, well prepared, curly whiskers and eyebrows. She has a very sweet nature, at present she is very much in keeping with her age, just to bulk up more fully for an award at this level.

Very mature masculine head type, full broad cheeks, giving his head a full rounded shape, broad muzzle, skull is broad and rounded, good stop, short nose, his nose leather is slightly narrow but not excessively deep broad chin, slightly under bite. His ears are set wide apart and fit well into the contours of his head, well-furnished interiors looking small and neat. Beautifully bold eyes which he holds wide open, emphasising the roundness and larger size, a lighter shade of copper colour. Coat was very full and profuse, well prepared, soft texture and it has full of life quality, full frill draping round his shoulders, wonderful presentation. He has a combination of bright red and clean white with red splashed across his face and muzzle, the contrast between the two well marked. Wonderful condition and handles beautifully, he can certainly command attention, looking very regal as he reclined and filled his double pen. Handsome chap.

level. Head lacks the degree of development his age indicates he should by now have achieved, requiring more fullness and rounding to his cheeks, rounded brow, chin adequate bite though was level. The ears are set well apart, reasonably small in size. Eyes open and round, good bright orange colour. His body is still more adolescent and still to pack out, legs and paws are proportionate, moderately heavy tail for his size. His coat though short and quite dense has still to crisp up more, his still with a degree of softness. Well prepared clean white areas with mainly smaller patches of cream randomly on his head and body, some smaller on his legs, the cream, a pleasing soft tone. His condition excellent and his temperament is charming, but far too pretty and lacking the degree of maturity for a boy of his age to be awarded at this level in my opinion.

Well grown for his young age and at 10 months exactly where one would expect him to be. Body is cobby and compact, well-proportioned legs and paws, bushy balanced shorter length tail. Head well rounded, his cheeks rounding well, good muzzle, reasonably rounded skull, good stop, his nose was short, good depth chin, his bite is a little questionable and may well be a problem as he moves higher up in status but at this level I was prepared to accept. Ears set well apart, smaller size and good width between particularly for his young age, edges? longer interior furnishings. Eyes are large and well open round shape, the colour still to fully deepen off, but well within the right range of orange Very good coat length, beautifully prepared, soft texture, good frill, lively quality. Clean white inverted blaze, white throat, chest tummy and paws, the remainder a good black, sharp contrast, with longer white curling whiskers and eyebrows. Remarkably composed young lad and his condition was splendid.

Body has good weight, legs and paws are proportionate, good tail. Short coat, good density for his young age, obviously still baby soft. He has small well-placed ears, looking relatively neat and tidy. His eyes are open and well rounded, lovely orange eye colour. His body was well grown but may need to watch his weight, good bone to his legs and paws, moderately heavy tail. Coat is a trifle long and at present very soft, it is further compounded by the colour being very unsound and uneven, also showing quite a lot of pattern with ghosted spotting and leg barring. The actual colour could ideally be a little spicier, though it was warm. Condition and temperament both excellent,

Head still looking very adolescent, cheeks still to fill more fully, rather bumpy on the forehead, good stop, short nose, rather small nose leather and nostrils, her chin requires a little more strength, the bite a little under. Her ears are small and well placed, looking quite neat and tidy, good inner furnishings. Eyes are open and round in shape, lovely deep coppery tone with pleasing boldness. Good amount of well-prepared coat, some frill, soft texture, comparatively sound in colour just to acquire glossier sheen as there is still some slight rustiness to fully clear. She was very sweet natured and her condition was sound, still has some growth and development to achieve.

2nd. 33 FISHER'S. CH ALMERIANS FURRARI (IMP) EXO d 22. 25-06-18. Red Classic Exotic. Cobby lad, showing greater degree of maturity and had his coat been a little better I would have reversed the pacing. Head much more finished, well developed fullness to his cheeks, skull a little more smoothly rounded, deep stop, short snub nose, chin has good width and some depth, his bite a little untidy with concave upper incisors. Ears set wide and low, with a neat, tidy appearance to their smaller size. Eyes are large and bold with full round shape and deep coppery finish. A little between coats as a result his coat though dense, is a little flat, as opposed to soft and full of life. Ears are a little larger than ideal and a little pricked, a mite wide at their base. Eyes well open and round shape, impressive deep orange colour already apparent. Body I would like to show more growth and development as he is rapidly approaching adult, that said he is on the edge of being overweight in relation to his size, legs and paws are proportionate to his size, virtually balanced tail. Coat short and dense, laying a little close and flat. He has well defined Classic Tabby elements, well-marked facials, butterfly over the shoulders, oyster on each side, broad leg bars and tail bands. He is a very bright colour, and the pattern contrast is well defined, against the warm red ground colour. All very bright which contrasts quite strongly against the pale near white chin. rounded brow, chin okay. Ears tiny bit open at the base, just widen off. Eyes are open and round the colour though still to settle, is showing promise in the right direction. Compact body, good legs and paws. Coat is short and has density, if still a little soft. Her colour is developing, showing a combination of black and varying shades of red evident. Charming temperament and in lovely condition.
