

Environmental Policy

The GCCF actively seeks ways of reducing its impact on the environment.

In line with this the GCCF seeks to reduce the amount of paper it uses through the use of email, websites and any other means of electronic document transfer whilst still maintaining the needs of its customers and its position as a quality provider of information.

The GCCF will not exclude a person from taking a role in the GCCF, either directly or indirectly because they can not accept electronic information. The GCCF will take all reasonable steps to provide its information in the form required by its customers or officers.

The GCCF also encourages its member organisations and individuals to comply with this policy.
