

Gavin Tasker

I was devastated to hear that my friend Gavin Tasker (Bundook) had died. He was a lovely man, very kind but with a waspish wit at times. We first met when he was looking to start breeding OLHs, or Angoras at they were known back then. We were novices in those days and he bought our first ever home bred female kitten , Mistytor Morning Glory, as his foundation queen. We kept in touch over the years with him and his wife Liz who he lost recently. Cat shows without him sitting at the entry table just won't be the same anymore for me. Sleep tight, Gavin. Xx
